Understanding experiences of social care in Wales.

We want to collect stories from anyone who has recent experience (within the last 12 months) of social care in Wales - this could mean receiving care and support or being a carer. These stories will build a picture of how social care feels for the individuals involved in it so we can understand the impact of the Social Services and Well-being (Wales) Act 2014.

We want to work with:

- Organisations that support people involved with social care
- Listeners who can help others to share their story
- People who have stories they want to share

- Co-productive
- World-leading
- All-Wales collaboration

Being a Listener

Listeners are people who have the time and connections to help others share their stories. Listeners can be staff members with an organisation, or they can be volunteers.

Volunteer Listeners can join the Spice Time Credits scheme and earn Time Credits for the stories they collect.

Citizens' Jury

This September (24th—27th), at the Liberty Stadium, Swansea we will be hosting a Citizens' Jury to closely examine one or more key themes that emerge from the stories we're collecting. And we will need members of the public to form that Jury.

The Jury will meet for three and a half consecutive days, where they will be supported to examine evidence, question witnesses and draw conclusions on a particular issue. They will spend the final half day, compiling a brief report with recommendations. This will be presented to Welsh Government.
